PROFILE

In my free time I read books, articles, watch talks about web development and anything connected with it.

I love to learn new things. Regularly visit conferences and meetups like PiterJS, PiterCSS. Follow the news on youtube channels of HolyJS, Frontend Conf, Angular Connect, listen to podcasts like DevShaht, UnderJS, Frontend Weekend and others. Read papers on Habr and Medium.

I have experience with JavaScript/Typescript, React, Angular.

I like to deeply understand things related to work, read documentation and specifications. Love clean, self-documented, thoughtful and maintainable code.

I am taking part in the development of pencil selling SPA for Deutsche Telekom, which will help their sellers in the stores to use special application instead of regular paper sheets and reference books.

Due to bad internet connection in shops where it is used and slow backend services this SPA is a fat-client with complex business logic on front-end.

While implementing new functionality we made constant refactoring and technical debt reduction.

I and my colleague were in charge of rewriting entire application styles to adaptive design, and use of modern technologies like flexbox, grids instead of old absolute positioned elements. Also my responsibilities included organizing meetings and presentation results of our work to german colleagues.

TUTOR, EPIC SKILLS

May 2018 – Jun 2019, 1 yr 3 mos

Mentoring students of this internet technologies school.

TEACHER, ITMO UNIVERSITY, CHILDREN COMPUTER CLUB

Sep 2016 – Jun 2019, 3 yrs

Courses for children about web development basics.

I taught two courses: the basics of Frontend and the basics of Backend development.

JUNIOR FRONT-END DEVELOPER, BANDITO

Nov 2016 – Sep 2017, 10 mos

At this design studio my responsibilities included working on landing pages, corporate sites.

I was working with HTML, CSS, SASS, Pure JavaScript. Some projects were handed over after freelancers and required some refinement and refactoring.

Also I introduced git into developing process.

I had experience with installing web-sites on WordPress and supporting them.

Here are some examples of projects I took part in: ADhoc, Zverinus, Bandito.
